Higgledy Piggledy was a hen who loved to dance. She would dance all day long, no matter where she was. She would dance in the barn, in the coop, and even in the garden. The other animals on the farm loved to watch her dance. They would often stop what they were doing to watch her twirl and spin.

One day, Higgledy Piggledy was invited to dance in a talent show. She was so excited! She practiced her dance every day, and she couldn't wait to show everyone what she could do. On the day of the talent show, Higgledy Piggledy danced her heart out. She twirled and spun and jumped and skipped. The audience loved her! They cheered and clapped and shouted for more.
