An Inspiring True Story of Courage, Patriotism, and the Power of the Human Spirit

The Nevada Rally was founded in 1982 by a group of concerned citizens who were worried about the growing nuclear arms race. They organized rallies, protests, and other events to raise awareness of the dangers of nuclear weapons. Their goal was to pressure the United States government to negotiate an end to the arms race.

The Nevada Rally quickly gained support from people all over the country. By 1986, the group had over 100,000 members. They organized a series of protests at the Nevada Test Site, where the United States conducted nuclear weapons tests. These protests were successful in raising awareness of the dangers of nuclear weapons and helped to put pressure on the government to negotiate an end to the arms race.

In 1987, the United States and the Soviet Union signed the Intermediate-Range Nuclear Forces (INF) Treaty. This treaty banned the development, testing, and deployment of intermediate-range nuclear missiles. The INF Treaty was a major victory for the Nevada Rally and for the cause of nuclear disarmament.

The Nevada Rally continued to work for nuclear disarmament after the signing of the INF Treaty. The group organized protests and other events to raise awareness of the dangers of nuclear weapons and to pressure the United States government to take further steps to reduce the nuclear arsenal.

In 2010, the Nevada Rally merged with the Nuclear Age Peace Foundation. The Nuclear Age Peace Foundation is a non-profit organization that works to promote nuclear disarmament and peace. The Nevada Rally's legacy lives on through the work of the Nuclear Age Peace Foundation.

The Nevada Rally is an inspiring story of courage, patriotism, and the power of the human spirit. It is a reminder that even in the face of adversity, hope can prevail.

The Nevada Rally is a must-read for anyone interested in the history of the Cold War, the nuclear arms race, or the peace movement. It is also a powerful reminder of the importance of citizen activism and the power of ordinary people to make a difference.
